MARKET'S FIRMNESS HELD

After Slight Declines From Opening Another Advance Begins.

Pacific Mail a Feature in the Street. Belief That President Roosevelt Will Support the Subsidy Bill-Less Buoyancy Than Yesterday Shown.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 .- Virtually nothing that was news was presente for consideration upon the opening of business in this morning's Stock Mar ket, and the trading was deprived of the special influence provided yesterday from the very pronounced strength of American stocks in London. The early cables this morning showed small and irregular changes in prices and the operations here for forcign account were in small volume and on both sides of the market. The trading also appeared to reflect the very extensive reduction of short contracts incidental to yester-

The trading was, however, in fairly The trading was, however, in fairly large volume and was very well distributed as a rule. Slight decimes resulted from the early dealings, but there were a number of exceptions to this tendency. St. Paul and Union Pacific were active features of the railway list and were dealt in at the opening at about yesterday's final prices. The Erie issues were rather reactionary, as were the Southern Railway shares. The Atchisons also showed the effect of the reduction of the short ineffect of the reduction of the short in-terest in that stock. New York Cen-tral and Pennsylvania were both dull and were dealt in slightly below yes-terday's final level.

Among the specialities Amalgamated Copper reflected pressure, while Pacific Mail was decidedely strong, probably in connection with the knowledge that the policies of McKinley's Administration would be continued by his successor. The local traction issues were steady, particularly for Manhattan.

In the industrial quarter the United States Steel stocks were heavy on the sales usually following the announce-

States Steel stocks were heavy on the sales usually following the announcement of an expected event, which in this instance was the settlement of the steel strike. Except for purely technical reasons there was no explanation of the rather reactionary tendency of the market at large, and the morning's few routine developments were all of a favorable character.

After the earlier dealings the level of have expected a weak market, if not a panic, as the result of the recent terrible events at Buffalo. The opening was at a better level than that at the close last night, and before the first hour had passed a slight weakness that followed the opening had given place to further gains of an im-portant character. The market was not so buoyant as yesterday's, but it showed no inclination pearance at least nothing to suggest that a reaction is likely in the near future. The support of the inside interests has been superb, and they have been helped by more commission-house buy-ing than might have been looked for at such a contracts has had much to do with the advance conditions are excellent almost everywhere, and the outlook is that they will become better rather than worse. The financial situation has been robbed of all its legitimate terrors by the prompt action of the Secretary of the Treasury, and by Wich. his promise that more will be done if necessary.

With the $10,600,000 in round numbers paid out for bonds, and the $5,000,000 transferred to the the advance payment of nearly $5,000,000 of interest, and with the promise from Mr. Gage that he will anticipate the pension payments if necessary, a total of nearly $25,060,060 has already been given to the banks or is available in an emergency. There can be no question that this amount will prevent any stringency in money in New York during the period of the outgo of money for the movement of the crops. This is the chief bullish time in the cities in New York during the personal conditions that have money for the movement of the crops. This is the chief bullish item in the situation at present, but the policy of President Roosevelt and the ending of the steel strike are both momentous matters that are not only having their effect now but will have their large influence during many months without doubt. The outlook therefore is most hopeful. As to the immediate market, there is, of course, much uncertainty. Many people express the belief that the advance in prices will continue until the bank statements reprices will continue the crops and the continue that the chief that the c the recent sharp advance can hardly be avoided.

Carolina Colleges Well Attended. RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 17.—The state ment is made by the heads of the various colleges that the attendance is now larger than ever before. The Agricultural and Mechanical College has been forced to de cline to receive any more. Its president says that if there was dormitory room it would have 1,000 students, so eager is the demand for technical education in North Carolina. The State University has reopened with 500 students. The number of freshmen is so large that additions to the teaching force will have to be made.

District Attorney Penney addressed him six times by name, but Czolgosz looked up, his eyes grew big and he stared hard at the judge and then at the District At-torney. Suddenly the life went out of his looks and he dropped his head. District Attorney Penney addressed the prisoner: "Czolgosz, I have here an indictment charging you with murder in the first

At the word murder the prisoner looked up, stared hard with bulging eyes and again relapsed into his former attitud "Have you any counsel," asked Mr Penney. Again the prisoner looked up his lips moved slightly, an unintelligible sound escaped from them and his head sank upon his breast again.

It was then announced by District Attorney Penney that the counsel selected to defend Czolgosz could not be reached yesterday and the case was adjourned un til today, that the counsel might be com municated with. Czolgosz was reshack-led and taken back to the county jail, where he was locked up under a special

The prisoner's conduct in court excited a good deal of comment and various opin ons regarding him prevailed after the hearing. Mr. Davis ran to the telephone. "Excuse me," he telephoned, "I am almost prostrated. I spoke to my bookkeeper about the check and the man has just shot himself dead."

Cohen was in the volunteer service with the Twenty-second Regiment of this city. After the Spanish-American war he was elected first lieutenant of Company H, to his left breast.
